ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

Clients may not use their respective accounts:

For any purpose which violates U.S. federal or state laws

To interfere with or disrupt network users, services or equipment including distributing unsolicited electronic mail, propagating computer worms or viruses, or using the network to make unauthorized entry to other computational, information, or communications devices or resources

- To broadcast message(s) to lists or individuals that have not explicitly expressed an interest in such messages. Unsolicited Bulk E-Mail and SPAM are not acceptable

- To intentionally use programs that harass other users or infiltrate a computer or computing system and/or damage or alter the software components of a computer or computing system and which include sending messages likely to result in the loss of recipients' work or systems

- To gain unauthorized entry into any piece of electronic equipment or to scan networks looking for possibly unauthorized entry points

In a manner that precludes or significantly hampers its use by others

Be aware that many networks are production or communications networks that many people rely on for business, education, or communications; uses that significantly interfere with the ability of others to make effective use of the network are not acceptable.

Respect the legal protection provided by copyrights, licenses and ownership of information; it is not acceptable to use your account to access information or resources unless permission to do so has been granted by the owners or holders of rights to those resources or information.

Forging E-mail or Usenet headers is expressly forbidden.
